Numb. 3892.

The Daily Courant.

Thursday, April 15. 1714.

London, April 15.

Yesterday arrived the Mails due from Holland and Flanders.

From the Hague Courant, dated April 10.

Ausbourg, April 12.

TH E 9th Instant the Protestant Envoys had a Conference among themselves, about the taking away of the Churches from the Protestants in the Palatinate and towards the Rhine, and came to the following Resolution.

WHEREAS the Electors and States of the Empire of the Ausbourg Profession, being informed, that by the Peace of Rastat 'tis stipulated, that the Treaty of Rylwick should (even in Spirituals) serve for the Foundation, the known Clause of the 4th Article relating to Religion therein included; under which Pretext several Churches in the Territories of Mentz, Trier, the Palatinate, Deux-ponts, and other Parts, have already been taken by Force from the Protestants, and other Proceedings against the Peace of Religion, have been set on foot by the French Governour of Metz and by the Parish-Priest of Kirm: And whereas the 3d Article of the Treaty of Rastat, gives the Protestants no little Concern; 'tis judged proper, to apply first to the Emperour, then to the Roman-Catholick States, and also to the King of France, to the end that Article may be explained by the solemn Treaty; as likewise to write about it to the Queen of Great-Britain, the King of Prussia, and the States-General of the United Netherlands; seeing France by the Treaty lately concluded at Utrecht, has engaged that all Affairs belonging to the Empire shall be re-established on the Foot of the Peace of Westphalia: And lastly, to speak with the Envoys of the Electors of Mentz, Trier, and Palatine, and the Duchy of Deux-ponts, touching the Churches which are already taken away, that Measures be taken for the preventing further Proceedings by Force.

P A R I S.

By the King.

A Declaration, prolonging for three Years the Prohibition which the new Converts are under, not to sell their Estates without his Majesty's Permission.

Given at Versailles the 12th of March 1714.

LEWIS by the Grace of God King of France and Navarre: To all who shall see these Presents, Greeting. We have by several Declarations published at different Times, and particularly by that of the 17th of May 1711, forbidden those of our Subjects who have professed the pretended reformed Religion, to sell during the space of three Years, their immovable Estates, or the Bulk of their moveable Effects, without having first obtained our Permission by a Letter issued from the Office of one of our Secretaries of State, for all such Sales as amount to the Sum of three thousand Livres and upwards, and without the Permission of the Intendants and Commissioners appointed to see to the Execution of our Orders in our Provinces and Generalities for Sums under that, on Pain of Nullity: Which Prohibition we thinking fit to renew, pronounce, declare, and order, by these Presents, and our Will and Pleasure is, that those of our Subjects who have made Profession of the pretended reformed Religion, shall not sell during the Term of three Years more, to be reckoned from the Day of this our present Declaration, the immovable Estates belonging to them, or the Bulk of their moveable Effects, without having first obtained our Permission by a Letter to be issued by one of our Secretaries of State. --- We declare null all Dispositions which our said Subjects shall make of their immovable Estates, in whole or in part, or of the Bulk of their moveable Effects, as also all Contracts Acquittances or other Deeds relating thereto which shall be transacted and done during the said three Years, to the Prejudice and in Evasion of these Presents. --- We Will likewise, that when the Estates or Effects of our said Subjects shall be to be sold by Decree of Justice for the Satisfaction and Payment of their Creditors, those Creditors shall previously appear personally before a Judge, and affirm that their Debts and Pretensions are real, and that they are actually due to them; on Pain Confiscation of whatever Part of the Estates or Effects shall be adjudged to them and received by them, in Case their Demands and the Affirmations made by them shall be found not to be true. --- &c. For such is our Pleasure ---

Hague, April 10. We learn that the States-General, in their Answer to the Earl of Strafford's last Propositions, have excused themselves from sending a Minister to the Congress at Baden, the Peace to be finished there relating solely to the Interests of the Emperour and Empire and of some Princes of Italy who are Feudatories of the Empire, and as to the Affairs of Religion their High Mightinesses are willing to periwade themselves that the redressing them depends wholly on France, after the Declaration the Emperour has made in favour not only of the Protestants of the Palatinate but of those of his Hereditary Countries. The States are likewise said to have declined sending a Squadron into the Baltick, for the Reasons mentioned in their former Resolution on that Subject, which they enforce by the Consideration of the last Defeat of the Swedes in Finland, and of the Divisions which reign in that Kingdom: Whence the freshest Letters advise, that the States, and especially the Peasants, observing that the Regency are ever making Difficulties to enter into Negotiations of Peace with the Enemies of Sweden, and to send Ministers to the Congress at Brunswick, notwithstanding the total and inevitable Ruine with which the Kingdom is threatened, have intimated not only that they will not separate before Ministers are sent with full and unlimited Power to enter into Treaty with their Enemies, but that if Opposition be continued to be made still, they will rather chuse the young Duke of Holstein for their King than continue under this Regency.

Mr. Harley set out at Length on Tuesday last from Amsterdam for Hanover. 'Tis said he reckons to be back here the Middle of next Month.

We have a very strange Story from Utrecht, the Circumstances of which are confusedly and variously related, but the current Account and what most People agree in amounts to this. A domestick Servant of the Duke d'Osuna Ambassador of Spain, being suspected of making away with some of his Plate, was by Torture in his Master's House brought to confess himself guilty. Whereupon the Duke sentenced him to be hanged in his Garden, where he caused a Post to be set up for his Execution, and ordered his Servants to cast Lots who should be Executioner: He on whom the Lot fell, abhorring to kill a Man in cold blood, refused it; but another did it, and the dead Body being cut down was buried. Then to punish the disobedient Servant, the Ambassador ordered him to be tied to the same Post and whipt whipt severely; the poor Fellow cries out Murder and Help, the Neighbours looking out of their Windows, and seeing how he was used, gather together about the House, hear what was the Matter, find the dead Body, the Mob rise, and threaten the Ambassador's Person. Finding himself in Danger he sends for Protection to the Magistrates of Utrecht, who refuse it, alledging that he had not only acted against the Laws of the Country, and of Justice, but even against the Agreement settled among the Ambassadors themselves; adding, that the best Assistance they could give him, was to advise him to withdraw secretly for a time, lest he should be torn in Pieces by the People who are not accustomed to such Procedures. He took their Counsel, and is now concealed in one of our most populous Towns.
